

April 13th
FTU Town Hall

Technology Day

We are offering another date when you can pick up a hotspot or loaner Chromebook for distance learning, if you do not have technology at home. We'll be at school this Thursday the 16th between 11 am and 2 pm (or until materials run out, supply is limited).

Going Forward

There were a lot of questions regarding report cards, seniors last day, last day of the school year, and remote learning in general. The administrators as well as all of Baltimore City are invited to join the Facebook Live presentation from Dr. Santelises on Thursday at 5pm. "Dr. Santelises and a panel of City Schools leadership will provide updates on academics/online learning, technology, and wholeness as they relate to the current emergency." You may join in here facebook/baltcityschools

Resources

Faculty contact and class information: tinyurl.com/onlinebard

Listing of Faculty and Staff can also be found here: baltimore.bard.edu/our-people/faculty/

Remote Learning Resource: baltimore.bard.edu/remote-learning-resources/

Parent Guide: <https://baltimore.bard.edu/parents-guide/>

Teachers Democracy Project: "Every Monday and Thursday we host a discussion online. Mondays are a Parent Power Podcast where we have special guests on a wide variety of topics. Some upcoming topics include a 3 city comparison of how parents and teachers are navigating life and learning during COVID-19. People can listen live through facebook (check <https://www.facebook.com/tdpbaltimore/> for the latest link) and Thursdays are a phone or video call on Zoom for anyone to join.

Next FTU Town Hall meeting will be Monday April 20th via Google Hangout Meets. Look for the link from Dr. Gamber

Questions, email them to the Family Teachers Union (FTU): b-ftu@bhsec.bard.edu

Be you. Be challenged. Be ready for life.

Bard High School Early College Baltimore